Work-Able is a workplace quality standard for organisations who demonstrate disability confidence in meeting the needs of disabled employees at work.
Work-Able has;

- Recruited a team of workplace auditors
- Conducted five workplace audit assessments
- Awarded five quality standard plaques
- Designed a website and employer self assessment
Work-Able has;

• Trained 4 former students with disabilities to become workplace assessors

• Created five employer good practice case studies

• Published five news stories of employer good practice
Why did we do it?

• Learners not sustaining employment – why?
• Employers wanted to be more involved
• Opportunity for employment
How did we do it?

• Asked questions
• Talked to employers
• Recruited and trained assessors
• Built website and assessments
• Engaged employers
What was our aim?

- Sustainable employment for team
- Network of disability confident employers
- Develop a recognised standard
- Provide employer support and guidance
What was the impact?

• Improved employer engagement
• Improved employer support
• Employment for team
• Publicity for the standard
Thank you for listening

Questions?

www.work-able.org.uk